

Medication Management and Use

Medication management is a process that guides nurses on how to manage medicines safely and effectively when treating patients with different medical conditions. Nurses are required to understand the principles of handling medications and their effects on patients. This module is aimed at guiding nurses on managing and dispensing medications safely ensuring better patient outcomes.

Learning Outcomes

- Discuss the procedures and techniques of medication administration
- Explain the principles of safe storage and dispensing medications
- List out the legislative standards and guidelines in handling different medications
- Evaluate the definite roles of nurses in medication administration
- Discuss various dosage calculation methods
- Develop the knowledge and skills to administer medicines within the health and care settings competently

Training Material

- Multimedia audio visual aids
- Handouts

Duration

6 hrs

Number of Participants

15