

Ethics in Everyday Nursing

Ethics is an integral part of the foundation of nursing and code of ethics describes the ethical values, responsibilities and professional accountability in nursing profession. Improved knowledge of ethics facilitates nurses to enhance their ability to deal with various critical incidents. The aim of this workshop is to develop nurses' ability to address ethical issues tactfully in clinical practice.

Learning Outcomes

- Define code of ethics in nursing
- Discuss ICN code of ethics
- Explain the purpose of ethics in nursing practice
- Identify and examine different ethical dilemmas in clinical practice
- Recognize and address moral and ethical challenges within nursing profession
- Apply ethical principles in clinical scenarios

Training Material

- Multimedia audio visual aids
- Handouts

Duration

4 hrs

No. of Participants per Instructor

50